BEWARE OF IMITATIONS! Snappers should take note that a great part of the tobacco sold in Buenos Ayres as English or American tobaccos, "Golden Magnets," "Navy Cut," "Pioneer," etc. etc., are vile imitations of the brands that our house import, and to avert all complaints, we guarantee only genuine tobacco imported directly and sold at our stores, viz., 333 Piedad and 724 Cangallo 728.

Ours is the largest, most selected and cheapest assortment of only genuine and fresh tobaccos for pipes or cigarettes, and all articles in the smoking line, which have been completed just now with various new brands, which have found already great credit amongst our numerous customers in this Republic. Price lists on application.

Montevideo, 14th.
A leading article in this morning's Na-cion, the official organ, states that the press of Buenos Aires renders itself ridiculous by publishing accounts of battles and victories of the Blancos which never take place. It furthermore states that Lamas and Saravia are close to the Brazilian frontier, with their forces demoralized, without clothes, food, money, ammunition and prestige. Government intends to disband the marine battalion and the "Battalion Presidente". The latter just marched past my window, they are fine powerful men mostly sons of colonists from the Canary Islands and hail from the department of Camerones. This continual disbanding of troops would seem to indicate a feeling of confidence on the part of the Government.

Never was a diplomat in this city so rightly stuffed, fed, banqueted, and pampered as the outgoing Chilean Minister Sr.
Santa Cruz. Last night there was another banquet offered him in the house of Sr.
Sanchez, prefect of the Capital. The local press, following a stupid custom,
publishes the menu and list of guests.

By the way that same press begins to speak of the candidature of Sanchez for the presidency, which I wired you several days ago.

Telegrams from London announce a further rise of one point in Uruguayan Consols. Somebody who is in the swim must be making a lot of money on the London stock exchange and perhaps on the Bolsa here
for, after a fall of several points, the stock has been rising rapidly. I have heard that in London there was a plan to bear the stock by circulating reports of the triumph of the revolution. Could these stock exchange operations have had any connection with the famous bulletin of the Oriental in your city?

I was mistaken in stating that the Senate was to occupy itself with the arrangement of the Brazilian debt. The matter is still under the consideration of the Chamber and has not yet been reported on by the finance committee.

The new batteries received by the Pampa have been set up in the artillery park.
A new battalion of artillery is to be organized. Practice with the Bange Canet guns gives excellent results as to marksmanship, and the working and quality of the guns.

Sr. Lira, the new Chilean Minister, was officially received this afternoon.

This morning the French monks of Calle Daimen celebrated a solemn mass for the persons destroyed in the fire of the Rue Jean Goujon. The Bishop was present and the service was most luxurious and impressive. The Tribune says it was
"chic".

Mrs. Ventura Granwell and daughters
leave to-morrow for a visit to your city.
On Wednesday evening they gave a soirée musical.

The crew of the Ernestina R., the fil-buster steamer taken by Government, have been placed at the disposal of the Judge for trial. Their advocate asks that they should be set at liberty inconditionally, as they were quite innocent of any participation in the doing of the persons who used the vessel for revolutionary purposes.

THE WAR.

Terrible Battle in Epizaco.

Capture of Domokos.

78,000,000 Francs Demanded by Turkey
as War Indemnity.

Arrival of the King of Siam.

Brindisi, 14th.—The King of Siam, Paraminir Maha Chulalongkorn, arrived here
this afternoon on board his yacht Mahachackri. His Majesty comes to Europe for the express purpose of being present at the Diamond Jubilee fêtes of Queen Victoria and will also visit Italy, Switzerland, France, Denmark, Russia, Sweden,
and Norway. The distinguished visitor was received with a Royal salute of cannon.

Vienna, 14th.—A telegram from Janina,
announces that since early this morning severe fighting has been going on between the Greek forces commanded by Col. Bazaracis and the Turks sent to bar-tain advance, at Gribovo, a town in Epirus between Arta and Philippiades. Heavy losses have been already sustained by both armies, but no definite result has yet been obtained.

Roma, 14th.—The debate was begun
this afternoon in the Chamber of Deputies on several interpellations respecting affairs in Africa. The sitting is of a stormy character, but the friends of Ra-dini are confident that a large majority will express its approval of both his foreign and home policy.

Madrid, 14th.—According to the latest advices from Menilla the campaign against the insurgents continues its victorious progress. The official despatches received to-day assert that the rebellion will be definitely subdued within a few days' time.

Canea, 14th.—The British Admiral and Consul have issued a fresh proclamation to the insurgents asking them to lay down their arms. This proclamation, issued without the participation or consent of the other Admirals and Consuls, will, it appears, give rise to some diplomatic unpleasantness. The other Admirals have telegraphed to their respective Governments asking for instructions.

Constantinople, 14th.—Public opinion
is decidedly against the European Powers dictating to Turkey the terms under which she must sign peace with Greece.
In high circles the idea is gaining ground
that Turkey should keep Thessaly in exchange for the island of Crete.

Athens 14th.—The Greek forces in the Epizaco actively continue their advance, and have occupied Philippiades after a feeble resistance.

New York, 14th.—The New York Herald
asserts as a decided thing that President McKinley will next Monday send a Message to Congress asking for the funds necessary to aid North American citizens in Cuba and who are in want. The greater number of them will be brought back to the States at the cost of the Treasury.

Athens, 14th.—Telegrams from Arta announce that Colonel Bazaracis continues marching on Philippiades without encountering any resistance by the Turks,
and yesterday occupied the important locality of Chalkiades, where the Greek troops laid in an abundance of provisions.

Athens, 14th.—The Greek squadrons of the West and East to-day bombarded
several towns on the coasts of Epirus and Macedonia. The foreign representatives were to-day advised that King George had decreed the blockade of the Gulf of Volo, and would shortly order the same to be done with Salonica.

St. Petersburg, 14th.—It is asserted that the Sublime Porte will ask Greece for a war indemnity of seventy-eight million francs. It is asserted that the Powers will not oblige Greece to hand her fleet over to Turkey as a guarantee for the payment of the indemnity but they will insist on Greece always paying in the first instance the interest on her foreign debt. This news is taken from a good source and published by Government organs.

Paris, 14th.—A solemn funeral mass was celebrated to-day in memory of the late Duchess of Alençon. The Church of St.
Philippe du Roule was crowded. Amongst those present were many French and foreign Princes and Princesses. The Duke of Alençon was also present, and his head was wrapped in bandages owing to the injuries he received during the recent fire. Cardinal Richier officiated.

The remains of the Duchess of Alençon
will be taken to Dreux to-night for burial
in the vault of the Orleans family.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.
(Received after Midnight.)

Athens, 14th.—The latest telegrams
from Epirus say that the battle commenced this morning near Gribovo is one of the most bloody yet fought. Hot firing was maintained until mid-day. Ammunition then gave out and bayonet charges were resorted to on both sides. The Greek troops have already lost 500 men in killed
and nearly an equal number in wounded.
The number of the losses on Turkish side are unknown. The Greek brigade, though decimated, shows no sign of being disheartened. The battle continued in the afternoon but the victory is yet undecided.

The Greeks attacked to-day the city of Micropolis; but were repulsed. Later on the Greeks received reinforcements and again attacked the Turkish positions but the garrison still resists.

Washington, 14th.—The Cabinet met to-day to discuss the proposal for sending funds to American citizens in Cuba. The message to be sent to Congress will be of a perfectly pacific nature and will not affect the harmony existing with Spain.

Constantinople, 14th.—It is asserted here that Domokos has fallen into the hands of the Turkish army.

Paris, 14th.—The body of the late Bec
d'Aumale arrived here to-night.

Athens, 15th.—Capture of Domokos is denied. Turks are retreating.

MR. BUCHANAN'S REPORT.

In our last reproduced Minister Buchanan's comparative table of wages in this country from 1836 to 1896, and our readers will have gathered that the depreciation of the currency has cut down
wages all round, there being no case
where the rise in wages has kept pace with the rise in the gold premium. In other words, inconversion is an infamous tax on labor and a terrible curse to the masses. Now we shall take up Minister Buchanan's chapter on the price of commodities during the decade: for the present we shall simply reproduce the Minister's statements, reserving our own remarks for a future issue:

PRICES OF COMMODITIES.

It will be readily understood that here,
as in the United States, there is a wide variation in prices on almost everything that goes to make up what may be called the usual purchase of a family. There are stores and shops here, as there, selling nothing but the best class of articles;
and others selling the poorest. In gathering the prices here given, I have avoided both, and have endeavored to secure the prices paid by the average workman or clerk's family. This statement as to difference in price does not, with equal force, apply to groceries or to other vegetables, meat, or bread, all of which cost more or less the same, whether bought by the family of the laborer or of the well
to do.

The following table gives the annual expenses of nine Italian, Basque and Swiss families living upon farms in the Province of Santa Fe. The figures are actual and not theoretical, extend over a period of three years, and include their entire expenses, with the exception of heavy farm machinery and of meat, poultry, vegetables, and such other eatables as they themselves produced. In estimating the number of persons in a family, children under 7 years of age have not been included. A portion of these families own their farms; the remainder are tenants, who pay from $5 to $6 per acre per year rent, or hold the farms on a sharing contract, giving the owner from 10 to 20 percent of the crop.

Family number. Number in family. Size of farm in acres. Annual expenditure

1..... 8 640 $1,350

2..... 6 480 1,110

3..... 7 800 1,640

4..... 8 440 1,015

5..... 4 340 650

6..... 9 640 1,475

7..... 6 480 950

8..... 10 560 1,720

9..... 9 560 1,400

In this city the annual living expenses of a family differ largely, but for purposes of comparison I subjoin two tables which I have made some effort to verify, so far as this could be done. The first is the annual expense of a workman's family of five persons living very frugally and simply:

Rent..... $300.00

Groceries, meat and vegetables ($1.41 per day)..... 514.00

Fuel and light..... 70.00

Clothing..... 120.00

Shoes..... 25.00

Medical attendance..... 80.00

Furniture, all kinds..... 60.00

Total..... 1,119.65

The Chronicle says:—"The St. James's Gazette on Saturday night in its leading article descended to a level of vulgar scurrility, happily rare even among Tory journals of the baser sort." After calling Mr. Gladstone's recent letter to a Macedonian chief "malignant drivel," this journal of light and leading in the "gentlemanly party" concluded a singular piece of editorial Billingsgate by describing that letter as "the dotage of one who never had the feeling (sic) of an Englishman, and has now seemingly lost even the sentiments of a gentleman." Homer tells of a certain notorious Thersites, "loquacious, loud, and coarse," a Greek chieftain not less deformed in mind than misshapen in body, whose peculiar province it was to say vile things and apply foul epithets to the greatest of the Greek heroes assembled before Troy. The spectacle of the St. James's Gazette in its role of a political Thersites, hurling vulgar abuse at Mr. Gladstone, inevitably recalls the exploits of this mythical but detestable personage.

THE LA PLATA MAILS

London, April 25th.

The Easter holidays have passed uneventfully at home, though the echoes of the Greco-Turkish war are painfully heard in this as in other civilized lands. The season has been observed in the customary ways, ecclesiastical and secular,—by solemn services, volunteer manoeuvres, and general holiday-making. The Snowdon Railway has again been opened, though not to the summit of the mountain. The statesmen and politicians have been resting, like other folks. Mr. Curzon has followed Lord Salisbury to the Continent, and Mr. Courtney, who spoke on Wednesday at Plymouth, is almost the only public man of eminence to break the silence of the recess. However, the Independent Labour party has taken advantage of the holidays to hold its annual conference in London, and the Parnellites have formed a new national organization in Ireland. The school teachers have also been filling their leisure time by attending the conference of their National Union at Swansea.

The preparations for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee furnish a number of interesting items of news this week. The Bishop of London writes to point out that the religious thanksgivings will be offered on the Sunday, June 20th, the open-air service at St. Paul's on the 22nd being merely an incident in the Royal procession. Some of our correspondents desire the Prince of Wales to mark the occasion by attempting to put the "chimney-pot" hat out of fashion.

Colonel Hay, the American Ambassador, landed at Southampton on Wednesday, and received a public and hearty welcome. Mr. E. Ridley, Q. C., has succeeded Mr. Justice Charles on the bench of the High Court.

The Archbishop of York is meeting a cordial reception in Russia.—A correspondence is published between the Bishop of Winchester and two of his clergy who insisted on attending a meeting in a Baptist Chapel to protest against ritualism.

Mr. Arnold-Forster severely criticizes the authorities for their continued neglect of our discharged soldiers; and another correspondent warns us that Chelsea Hospital is still in danger, though three committees have reported against the abolition.

Obituary list this week includes the names of Sir William Lawrence, senior Alderman of London, Lord Charles Brudenell-Bruce, the Hon. Herbert Bowles-Lyon, Col. H. P. Pearson, C. B., the Rev. W. F. Creney, an authority on Christian archaeology, Major F. Powell, Lady Aldenham and Lady Leake.

THE FORCING OF THE MELOUNA PASS.

A STIRRING STORY.

London, April 24.

The Melouna Pass has been forced by the Turks; the Greeks are in retreat towards Tynavos and Larissa, and the former place appears to be in some danger of falling into the hands of the invaders. In the Reveni Pass the Greeks seem to have maintained their position. A battle is likely to be fought soon by the Greeks advancing from Arta in the direction of Janina.

What the loss of life in the severe fighting in the Melouna Pass does not yet appear. The Turkish estimates of their own casualties seem ridiculous. An Athens telegram admits that there were a thousand Greeks killed and wounded. Turks and Greeks alike fought with magnificent courage, but the superior artillery fire of the invaders—the story of bad shells seems a myth—gave them a terrible advantage. At one point in the fighting the Turks were able to drop shells into the middle of battalions of Greeks in close marching order. The Turkish bayonet charges were delivered with tremendous dash, the men being excited by the religious appeals of their commanders. In a certain quarter of the field, the enthusiasm was so great that the mule-drivers joined in the onset.

Some notion of the fierceness of the fighting may be gained from the fact that several of the blockhouses were taken and retaken half-a-dozen times. In some of the smaller hill-works Greek and Turkish cartridges are found mixed up. The stone walls surrounding one blockhouse (says a Telegraph despatch) are riddled by shell-fire, and the interior of the work is strewn with all manner of debris and rubbish—torn papers and cartridges mixed up with shattered stones, Greek caps and—a touching circumstance—fragments of photographs. Outside, in the furrows ploughed by Turkish shells, several Greek corpses were fearfully mangled by splinters of shrapnel.

When the hill-tops were gained, and the Greeks who, on Turkish showing, stood until their enemies were within thirty yards of them, were in retreat, the Ottoman soldiery sang and laughed like children. The victors camped on Sunday night in the rich plain of Thessaly, where they were well fed and had a good night's sleep. Many of them slept in the tents abandoned by the Greeks, but tents do not matter much, for the weather is hot in the lower country.

The death of Hafiz Pasha, who was killed during the fighting in the Pass, is fully described. He was eighty years of age. While he was advancing at the head of his men, his orderly begged him to dismount. Hafiz replied: "In the war with Russia I never dismounted; why should I do so now?" Shortly afterwards he received a bullet in his left arm. Still he refused to withdraw from the range of fire, and even when wounded a second time in the right hand he insisted upon remaining in command. The fatal wound was inflicted by a bullet which entered his mouth and severed the spinal cord, causing instant death.

In the Reveni Pass, as already mentioned, the Greeks appear to be holding their own. Indeed a Daily News telegram from Athens asserts that they have taken 200 prisoners. The Turks were commanded by Edhem Pasha in person, but are said to have been beaten back after making seven separate assaults. It is stated that the Greeks even advanced to Damascus, which is across the frontier. The Greek troops are supported by 8,000 armed peasants. Indeed, the Greek Home Secretary has asked the mayors to invite all their people to arm and go to the frontier. One thousand military police and 2,000 gendarmes have already been despatched to join the army at Larissa. Women and children render assistance freely to the soldiers by carrying water and food.

The following explanation is given in Athens of the apparent Greek reverse at Grizova, north-west of Tynavos. Col. Mastropas, commanding the artillery at Grizova, misunderstood an order sent him by the Crown Prince, and ordered a retreat. Some time after the Greeks had withdrawn the Turks occupied the place, and then followed up the retreating Greeks, killing a few of their number and wounding 200. Colonel Mastropas's brigade afterwards rallied and made a stand. In the meantime, the Crown Prince sent reinforcements, and Colonel Smolnitz then succeeded in driving the enemy back. His Royal Highness has censured Colonel Mastropas.

From Arta an official statement comes that the Turks have been firing on the Red Cross Hospital. A Chronicle correspondent has seen the Crown Princess, who has returned from Larissa. She found the hospital arrangements better than at the time of her previous visit. Her account of the wounded is touching. The four English nurses at Larissa are doing splendid work amongst the wounded. She said she could never believe that, except their own mothers and wives, anyone could be so kind. The Princess heard the wounded tell of the tortures which the Turks inflict on the wounded. They build a fire round the victims, and roast them. One chief shot his wounded men at their request to escape torture. A captain of infantry when wounded in the leg would not fall into Turkish hands, and so shot himself. The Princess ended her narrative, and said, "The wounds of all I saw were in front." With the Crown Princess's reference to Turkish treatment of the wounded, it is only fair to place the declaration of Reuter's correspondent with the Ottoman Army: "The Turks have reverently placed the bodies of Greeks in shaded spots and covered them up."

EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS BY PROFESSOR G. DA RE

Strange as it may appear—it is a real truth and a foregone conclusion; painters in this country are undergoing a serious crisis, however hopefully they may look to the distant future. Professor Guillermo da Re is an artist who in his own country made money out of his productions, who was there appreciated, and whose cleverness was rewarded by giving him the surname of Favretto, one of the most renowned Venetian painters of our day. With these antecedents, the man came out to these shores, and jumped headlong into what was at the time the fashion of the day: into painting historical events of a transitory nature, wasting his precious time and health after phantom, which had to prove fatal to him. The fact of the matter is, that out of his four great paintings, representing "The revolution of July 1890," "The swearing of the Constitution in Tucuman, 1816," "The Death of the Paraguayan General José Diaz," and "The dictator Francisco Solano Lopez on horseback," not one has found its way into the galleries of those who caused him to pass sleepless nights and long days of assiduous and tiresome work; not because of the worthlessness of his productions, but on account of his Meccenas having become worthless themselves in the meantime. A look at the exhibition will confirm our opinion, and there, with the aid of many other pictures at hand, everybody may convince himself of the fact, that times are really bad, and that good paintings alone are not sufficient to make a spider start from his hole.

The following gentlemen visited lately the "atelier" of Professor Da Re, Florida 780:—General Garmendia, Colonel Rhode, Doctors Miguel Nazari, Pardo, Victoriano Montero, Vicente Casares, Federico Tobal, Angel Carranza, Inurrigarro, Araujo, Fernandez Segui, Ballesteros and many others.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Among the official measures introduced into the Transvaal Raad, is one to secure the supremacy of the Dutch language as against English. It provides that all market notes and inland consignment notes must be written in Dutch, and gives to every inhabitant of the Republic the right to demand that receipts of any kind shall be written in Dutch.

When one of the fast North Atlantic mail steamers sails from New York for Europe a supplemental mail is opened on the pier from which the steamer sails, and is closed only 15 minutes before the steamer's departure, and there is no double postage rate charged for the accommodation either.

A boy of fifteen recently accepted the invitation of a "camelot" who was selling on the boulevard de Vaugirard, Paris, a yellow powder having the property of making people make taces, to drink a glass of water containing a pinch of the powder. The first dose having produced no effect, a second, and larger dose was administered, the boy was immediately seized with violent pains throughout the body and while the crowd gathered around him, the "camelot" fled, leaving his full stock in trade behind. The boy was removed to the hospital in a critical condition but was reported quite out of danger the next day, while the official physicians and chemists were examining the powder and the police were hunting for the "camelot" and investigating the methods of others of his trade.

During a busy evening lately, every "garçon" in the noted Café Riche, in Paris suddenly stopped work and refused to go on again unless certain money due to them was paid on the spot. There was much confusion, and the official receiver of the company (in bankruptcy) owning the café informed them that they would be paid as soon as he could go over the accounts; but the "garçons" were obstinate and the café was temporarily closed, many persons being forced to leave the tables in the middle of a dinner.

CONGRESS.

THE DEPUTIES.

The Lower House met yesterday at 3.30 p.m., Dr. Avelaneda in the chair and 40 members present.

Amongst the "asuntos entrados," there was a proposal from Frans and Co. to establish a shipyard in the Madero port, also several petitions for pensions and subventions, and a petition for modification of several articles in the Patente Law.

The Public Works Committee reported that it had named Sr. Canton as its President, and Sr. Cortes Funes its Secretary. Deputy Lobet resigned his post on the Budget Committee, but the House refused to accept his resignation.

Deputy Cobos presented a Bill to reform the administration of justice. Sent to Committee.

Deputy Daract moved that the Minister of the Interior be summoned to the next sitting, to explain the orders given to the Interventor in San Luis. This motion was unanimously approved. Deputy Almada moved that the two canalisation Bills be fore the House should be speedily discussed.

The sitting then closed.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

They seem to be crying peace in Europe when there is no peace as yet. The victorious, middle-aged Majesty who believes in Allah, Mahomet, the great carpet and his father's and his own beard is throwing difficulties in the way of an armistice, and evidently intends to let Edhem Pasha have his head yet for a while, to give the Greeks a final smashing. Meanwhile, the latter are again making a bit of a stand, and their fleet is again knocking Praves into brick dust. There was a rumour in London yesterday that Domokos had been evacuated, Edhem Pasha having outflanked it. The bluster of the Powers about not allowing Turkey to keep any Grecian territory is now, like Bob Acre's courage, oozing out at their fingers' ends; and the latest happy thought in the high diplomatic circles of Europe is that the Sick Man should be allowed to keep Thessaly in exchange for Crete. He evidently means to keep it, so the Powers may as well make a virtue of necessity and graciously "allow" him. More fact has been thrown into the fire by a proclamation of the British Admiral off Crete, and the British Consul in it, calling on the insurgents there to "ground arms!" As this has been done without consulting the other Admirals, and the British fleet there or thereabouts is strong enough to blow all the others over the moon, the commanders of the latter are in a flutter, and have telegraphed for orders. Has the hour for the break-up of the European Concert struck?

Yesterday could not fairly be called a newsy day, except amongst politicians, who are now all as busy as bees, and gradually getting their heads hot. To the astonishment of all the Bruins, Bovines and guttersnipes in Mammon's Temple, the Gold Eagle showed his contempt for the recent export of coin by dropping, "How is this, thus?" was the query on all sides.

There seems to be great cry and little wool about the Garibaldi business, the latest version of which is that the cruiser is very slightly injured. The official report will be published to-day or to-morrow.

The first subscription Dance in Prince George's Hall on Wednesday night will open the season of this the great Diamond Jubilee year. Never before has the subscription list been so quickly filled. The indefatigable Secretary, Mr. Woodgate, is overwhelmed with applications, and is busy day and night answering would-be subscribers. The list is closed for the 1897 series of dances: disappointed applicants must direct their attention to the other dances, several of which are already in hand. It promises to be a year of "bailes," and the one on Wednesday night will be a fitting opening. We thought that last year's Committee had exhausted their resources in the variety of decorations.

So far as we can recollect, no two dances were the same in that respect. But we learn on good authority that the dance on the 19th will embrace several novelties: as much in decorative effect as in the programme, and this will be but a prelude to what the Committee has in store for the winter season.

With regard to Prince George's Hall itself, we had lately occasion to see what the Committee has been doing during the past summer months, when the votaries of Terpsichore were "pas-de-quatre-ing" at Cosquin or Mar del Plata. The splendid floor has been carefully revised, and the sixty odd springs given more play, so that the whole surface now yields like a sheet of ice. The smoking room has been comfortably furnished, though not too much so, the arm chairs round the fire are limited, and reserved for the husbands of chaperons. The new exit from the Ladies, Cloak Room direct to the tea room is a great improvement and will enable little parties to make up their programmes there, instead of in the crowded vestibule or at the doors of the ball room. In other respects every effort seems to have been made to meet the wishes of the Musical and Dramatic Societies. The polished floor in itself was enough to make the slightest noise reverberate during a performance, and, with a thousand chairs occupied, it is evident that the acoustics of the Hall were at a disadvantage last year. A carpet, expressly manufactured in England, will now cover the whole floor, and with silence in the body of the hall the stage may have a chance. The assistance of several experts has enabled the Directors to thoroughly test the acoustics, and, making allowance for the size of the Hall—larger than most people are aware of—the correctives introduced are likely to make the Hall more popular for Concerts and Dramatic performances than any other locale in the city.

We had the pleasure yesterday of watching the pumping dry of the graving docks at the North End of the North Basin. The two big engines pumped the water out of the smaller graving dock in two hours and fifteen minutes. The depth of water in the North Basin at the time was 24 feet. We reserve for our next issue a description of this part of the Madero Port, and our impressions after a careful visit to the works.

In official circles it was, last night, confidently asserted that Gral. Dr. Benjamin Victoria would, on his arrival from Entre Rios, be immediately appointed Minister of War. In that case, Dr. Uriburu would cleverly gratify all parties since his selection would be both a civil and military luminary.

We call attention to the notice from the Southern Railway, as regards additional trains to Bursaco, in another column.

The discussion of "The Sunday Question" by the St. Andrew's Debating Society last night, attracted a very considerable audience. Mr. E. Cordero opened the question in a most masterly manner, showing, from his remarks, that he thought that innocent amusement, and proper recreation were quite in accord with the proper observance of the Sabbath, provided that those taking part, did not neglect their duty to their Maker by devoting some portion of the day to His worship. Several of those present spoke on the subject, but, as no real opposition to Mr. Cordero's remarks was raised, there was really no debate on the question.

The latest slocking whisper from home is, that there is an insidious reaction against Athletics, as being overdone now. This freezes our marrow. Nevertheless, it won't have the slightest effect on the extraordinary general meeting of the Lomas Athletic Club, to be held there to-night. See notice in our "ad" columns.

Good readers, and, for the matter of that, bad ones also—the sun shines on saints and sinners alike—if the Locusts are any of your trees during their summer sojourn in our midst, you have only to write to Mr. P. Crambade, the well-known nurseryman at 8321 Calle Corrientes, who generously offers to make you a present of whatever tree seeds you want, and, what's more, send them to you post free.

We thank our friends Galli Bros. for late English papers to 25th ult.—Graphic, Daily News, etc. The war pictures in the illustrated sheets are just getting into full swing.

Our esteemed contemporary the Montevideo Times is kind enough to answer as follows our recent enquiry as to the value in the postage stamp market of a Mulready envelope:—"The B. A. Standard is excoriated over the value of a 'Mulready envelope' possessed by one of its subscribers. We hasten to relieve its mind. There are two Mulready envelopes, the 1d. black and the 2d. blue, and their value varies with the condition of the specimen and as to whether it is used or unused. The current market price in New York to-day is $5 to 6 gold for the 1d. black and $10 to $15 for the 2d. blue. In London it may be slightly more. This is the dealer's selling price to anyone seeking one of these articles. The dealer's buying price would be 30 to 40 per cent. less. The idea of the Standard that such an envelope may be worth £60 or £50 is the very wildest fiction. There are many British and British Colonial stamps that are far more valuable than the Mulready envelopes, which are by no means a philatelic rarity."

The Rev. Dr. Smith, M.A., requests us to say that, in consequence of the death of Mr. Robert McClymont, the service at the Cabaña, Catueltas, is postponed till Sunday, 30th inst.

Paraguay has signed the first treaty she has ever made with our far-sighted Chiffian friends. It is, on the surface, merely one of extradition; but "quien sabe" what it may expand to later on?

The Falucho monument pow-wow to-morrow promises to be a big one, as all the Societies of the city will attend it. There is something touching in the patriotic heroism of the negro sergeant that appeals to the hearts of the masses to honour the memory of the humble soldier who died for an idea that eventually took such great shape.

The La Plata Wiggins again! The weather seer announces that all next week will be wet and drizzly. Turn up your trousers, gentlemen, and get ready your umbrellas, as the L. P. W. never misses a meteorological shot.

We thank our friend Mr. Charles Mackern for Black and White and Sketch of 24th ult; both as highly interesting as usual.

A London gossip paper says that the coming summer in England will be a straw hat one, as the Prince of Wales is expected to wear one if the weather be hot, and this will, of course, settle the matter with his loyal future subjects.

There is still a little of the virtue of gratitude left in this cold and heartless world, whose heart has been petrified by the prodigious money-making in the latter half of this now expiring century. The cable announces that the family of the Countess Greffulhe have given £4000 stg. to the footman who saved her life in the Rue Goujon fire. "Noblesse oblige; but it seldom takes such a princely shape.

Oh! Oh! We thought the Sultan, being a kind of Pope himself, would have more respect for the Holy Father in Rome. The other day, when the Papal representative laid before him a request from His Holiness for protection for the Christians in Crete, the Sultan is said to have muttered to himself in Turkish "Who the Dickens is this Pope who is meddling in the affairs of my kingdom?" Then His Majesty turned to the Nuncio with a politely sardonic grin, and said to him in French, "Tell His Holiness that my constant care is the well-being of all my subjects." Our private impression of this story is that it is pure invention.

Robuchon, the Frenchman who left here in November last to walk to New York in a year, has only just arrived at Lima, as thin as a coach-whip, and so done up generally that he hasn't the remotest chance of winning his bet.

Bad news from pious Cordoba. "Tristeza" is thinning the herds there in a fashion that our Rosario confrere the Capital declares to be "asombroso."

The Dia of La Plata says that in Calles 54 and 53 the ground, for several squares, is gradually sinking, and the proof of this is seen in the numerous big cracks in the walls of the houses. A rather ticklish state of things for the inmates.

Another fad of fashion in Europe and the United States now is the miniature opera glass which can be slipped into the waistcoat pocket and is to be seen (held very conspicuously) in the hands of theatre goers far and near. The miniature watch is also coming into favor. A watch of the size of a ten cent piece, worn in the button hole, and keeping correct time, is verily a triumph of the horologist's art. And, best of all, all three of these Parisian novelties are sufficiently expensive to make them a guarantee of worldly competence.

At the dinner given to Lord Roberts recently by the New Vagabond's Club in London, a woman reporter at the press-table surprised the company by producing a cigarette at the end of the banquet and calmly proceeding to smoke it.

He—"Madam, you have my assurance that I am a gentleman." She—"I have no reason to doubt your assurance."

The late George du Maurier, the artist and author, had a double in Laurence Alma-Tadema, R.A. A certain young lady, however, prided herself that she had no difficulty in determining which was which. On one occasion, finding herself seated next to Mr. du Maurier at dinner, she remarked: "I can not understand how any one can mistake you for Mr. Tadema. To me the likeness is very slight." Presently she added, "By the way, I have a photograph of you. Do be so good as to put your autograph to it." Mr. du Maurier assenting graciously, the photograph was afterwards produced. He looked as if for a moment, sighed, and then very gently laid it on the table. "That," he remarked, "is Mr. Alma-Tadema's portrait."

The echoes of the sad catastrophe in the Rue Goujon are still sounding through France. Our lively contemporary the Gaulois pitches into the Second to None Kaiser of Germany for sending a gift of money, to contribute to make good the great loss to the poor by the fire, knowing it could not be refused. This is petty nonsense. Nothing could be more appropriate than the Emperor's offering. Again, the Paris papers are making a fuss of delight over the Czar, in his letter of condolence, addressing President Faure as "Very dear, ('tres cher') and great friend." "Very dear!" Really our French friends can swallow any claptrap whatever from the wily Russian Bear, who must laugh in his snout at their weakness. The generous donor of the 937,000 francs, to make good the loss by the fire, is now known to be Madame Lebaudy, widow of the great sugar king. The inquiry into the cause of the fire shows that the unfortunate mass of ladies were so terrified from the first moment that they made no attempt to save themselves, and the gentlemen left them to their fate and saved themselves instead of helping them first. Those who were rescued owe it to working men and carriage servants who rushed in from the street.

The Pennsylvania Legislature would seem to have recently been conducting itself in a manner fully in keeping with some legislative bodies in these latitudes, as Pennsylvania papers say that the Legislature of their State has been in session three months and only four bills have become law. Twelve bills have reached the Governor, seven await action, or did on March 23, and one had been recalled for amendment.

IMPORTANT SALE

OF

Mr. Edwin Ellis's
Southdowns in England.

The Summersbury flock of world-wide reputation is to be dispersed on July 30th 1897 by Messrs. John Thornton and Co., when every ewe and ram is to be sold without reserve, the young lambs of this year only being retained.

The record of this flock is a remarkable one in the history of Southdown Sheep, to which old breed other dark-faced varieties owe so much of their excellence. Since showing was commenced in 1857, over £2500 has been taken in prize money. The Grand Prize of Honour was taken at the Paris International Exhibition in 1889 for the best collection of sheep of any kind in the show, besides three gold medals and several class prizes. The Flockmasters' Jubilee Cup was obtained at the Royal Agricultural Society of England's show in 1889, besides large numbers of special Champion and group prizes since that date. In fact more first prizes have been won each year than by any other flock of Southdowns in England.

Sheep have been sent to the Continent and to the Colonies. In the United States the success achieved by specimens from this flock has been most remarkable and their progeny have also been highly successful.

The flock consist of about 500 Ewes and 50 Rams, all of which will be unreservedly sold.

REGISTERED KENT OR ROMNEY MARSH SHEEP

The attention of flockmasters throughout the world is established a reputation second to none, both at home and abroad. Australia, New Zealand, the Argentine Republic, Cape Colony and Natal, South Africa, and the Falkland Islands have found them most valuable in that before any other sheep they readily adapt themselves to climatic variations and thrive upon any sort of feed.

The characteristics of the Kent or Romney Marsh breed are the production of mutton of the highest quality with a large proportion of lean meat, the rendering of a heavy fleece of good demi-lustre wool and the greatest possible thriftiness.

These sheep graze evenly over any land upon which they are depastured and do not herd together, as is the case with many other breeds.

For crossing with other breeds, the Romney Marsh stands unequalled, bringing as it does a hardy constitution combined with great kindliness points which are all important in a grazing animal.

Full information and a list of Breeders of Registered Kent or Romney Sheep can be obtained from W. W. Chapman, Secretary of the Kent or Romney Marsh Sheep Breeders' Association, Fitzalan House, Arundel Street, Strand, London, England. 1366 a30 mist 11 p

500 tons, Rosario for Rio Janeiro at 12/.

100 bales of wool, B. Aires for Genoa at 6 francs.

GENERAL.
The captain of the Norwegian barque Elda which arrived in La Plata to-day states that he left Rosario for foreign ports with produce. His vessel grounded at La Botija Island in the River Parana but managed to get off later on as she only draws 13 feet of water. He will have the vessel's bottom examined in that port in order to see if she has been damaged, before the barque resumes her voyage.

The Brit ss Angers which left Dock No. 5 to-day for Deptford with produce, grounded in the Channel, near buoy No. 1. She was drawing 22ft. 7in.

The ss. Dunbeth continues aground. The ss. Elstree Grange is being lighted in order that she may enter port from the Roads.

SAFETY IN THE TEAPOT

The serious inroads that Dyspepsia has made amongst the community of late years are largely due, the doctors assert, to the indulgence in cheap and inferior teas, in which many harmful elements are contained. Why so many persons should continue to be thus deluded is hard to understand, seeing that there is only the difference of a few cents per pound between the rubbish and the really good teas.

MAZAWATTEE

is the tea that the most eminent Physicians and Professors of Hygiene all cordially unite in certifying to be of the best and purest growth. It is mainly the product of the finest tea producing regions of Ceylon, and contains all the dainties and beauty of flavor of the delicious Teas of Thirty Years Ago. Mazawattee, indeed, forms in itself a complete answer to all tea-drinkers, and those who use it will find that it will mean to them.
